

I'm bored!

Play Cards

150 screen-free play ideas for ages 1–12, each with what you need, how to play, a talk prompt and a safety note.

150 cards + 36 seasonal

Ages 1–12, sorted by age

Calm • Medium • Wiggly

A talk prompt on every card

Also inside: summer & rainy-day sets • jar labels • box dividers • play menu • weekly planner • editable blanks

Boredom is where play begins.

“I’m bored!” isn’t a problem you have to fix. It’s a pause, and pauses are where children start inventing. These cards give that pause a gentle nudge: one simple idea, the few everyday things you need, and one thing to say while you play.

Talk is built in

Every card ends with a talk prompt. The back-and-forth (your question, their answer, your answer back) is what turns an activity into time together.

Sorted by age and energy

Choose your child’s age band, then ask one question: calm, medium or wiggly? Matching the mood makes a “yes” much more likely.

Safety on every card

Each card carries its own safety line, and every card for ages 1–3 uses only things bigger than a toilet-paper tube.

Made from everyday things

Pots, socks, boxes, paper, a walk outside. No shopping list, no batteries, no screens.

WHAT’S INSIDE

- 150 play cards in 4 age bands: 1–3, 3–5, 5–8, 8–12

Play & talk

Use the talk prompt, then follow their lead.

Your job as the grown-up

You don’t have to entertain. Set out the things on the card, play for the first few minutes, then step back and let your child lead. Say what you see, wait, and answer their answer.

Read a card in five seconds.

- 1 Age band
The color tells you the age band at a glance.
- 2 Energy level
One, two or three bars: calm, medium or wiggly.
- 3 Kind of play
Eight kinds, each with its own icon and divider.
- 4 You need
Everyday things only. Gather them first.
- 5 Try it
One or two short steps. Change anything you like.
- 6 Talk
One thing to say or ask while you play.
- 7 Safety line
Read it before you start, every time.

FOUR AGE BANDS

Bands overlap on purpose. Children move between them, so try the band above or below whenever a card fits your child.

THREE ENERGY LEVELS

Wiggly cards count toward active play. The World Health Organization's 2019 guidelines recommend at least 180 minutes a day of varied physical activity for children aged 1–4, spread across the day.

EIGHT KINDS OF PLAY

What play looks like at each age.

Every child plays differently, and age bands are a starting point, not a rule. Here is what play often looks like in each band, and the easiest way for a grown-up to join in.

AGES 1-3

Do it again!

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Filling and dumping, stacking and knocking down, copying you, again and again.

YOUR PART

Be the partner on the floor. Keep turns short, and repeat whatever gets a smile.

TALK TIP

Short words and long pauses. Say what they're doing ("In! Out!"), then wait for any sound or gesture back.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Tower and Crash

Sink Helper

Picture Walk

AGES 3-5

Let's pretend

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Pretend worlds, chasing games, simple rules, and stories that change every minute.

YOUR PART

Take a part in the story (customer, patient, passenger) and let your child direct.

TALK TIP

Ask "what happens next?" and add one new word to what they say.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Cushion Fort

Pretend Café

Feelings Freeze

AGES 5-8

Let me try

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Building, making, games with rules, and inventions of their own.

YOUR PART

Set it up, then step back. Be the tester, the audience or the rule-checker.

TALK TIP

Ask "why?" and "how did you figure that out?", and give them time to answer.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Paper Plane Contest

Dance Party DJ

One-Word Story

AGES 8-12

My idea!

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Projects, challenges, strategy, and real skills like cooking, fixing and planning.

YOUR PART

Be the assistant, not the boss. Offer the time and materials, then admire the result.

TALK TIP

Ask for their plan and their opinion, and share yours too.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Cook from a Recipe

Chain Reaction

Home Escape Room

Safety first, then fun.

Every card has a safety line at the bottom. These are the rules behind them. They apply to every card, including the ones you write yourself.

A grown-up is always in charge

Every card assumes an adult nearby. For ages 1–3, stay within reach the whole time.

Water

Any amount of water means a grown-up within arm's reach, the whole time. Empty tubs and buckets straight after play.

Cords, strings and scarves

Nothing long enough to wrap around a neck: no long strings, cords, ties or long scarves. Sheets and blankets are draped, never tied.

Outdoors

Play well away from the street. No berries or mushrooms. Hats, water and shade in the sun. No puddle play in thunder or lightning.

Small parts and under-3s

For children under 3, use only things too big to fit through a toilet-paper tube (about 1.25 in / 3.2 cm across). Every 1–3 card is written this way. Older cards that use small things (coins, dice, tape, seeds) say so: keep those away from younger brothers and sisters.

No balloons

Balloons are not safe for children under 8, so no card in this pack uses them.

Food and the kitchen

Sit down to eat. No whole grapes, nuts, popcorn, hard candy or marshmallows for young children. Check allergies. Grown-ups handle sharp knives, the stove and the oven.

Hide-and-seek

Never hide in appliances, chests, trunks or cars.

Too big to fit: OK

Fits: too small

THE TOILET-PAPER TUBE TEST

If it fits through the tube, it's too small for under-3s.

Keep a cardboard tube in the play basket and test anything new before a toddler plays with it. A tube is about 1.25 in (3.2 cm) across.

The cards themselves

Printed and laminated cards are paper, not toys for children who still mouth things. Round laminated corners, and keep velcro dots, rings and the jar lid out of reach of little ones.

You know your child best

Skip or change any card that doesn't suit your child, your space or your day. These cards are ideas for play at home. They are not medical or developmental advice.

Make them last.

- 1 Print
Print at 100% or “actual size,” not “fit to page.” Cardstock (65–110 lb / 176–300 gsm) makes sturdy cards. Pick the US Letter or A4 file to match your paper.
- 2 Card backs (optional)
Print a sheet of fronts, put it back in the tray and print one backs page on the other side. Test one sheet first. Or print the double-sided cards file and choose “flip on long edge.”
- 3 Cut
Cut along the light grey lines with a paper trimmer or scissors. The white border around each card hides small wobbles.
- 4 Laminate
Laminating pouches (3–5 mil) make cards last for years and wipe clean. Leave a thin sealed edge around each card, then round the corners with a corner punch or scissors so there are no sharp points.
- 5 Velcro
Stick a hook (scratchy) dot on the back of each card you want to use on the Play Menu, and loop (soft) dots on the board. Store spare dots out of reach: they’re small parts.
- 6 Store
A big jar with one of the labels, a 3 × 5 in recipe box with the dividers, or a binder ring through a punched corner. Keep rings away from little ones.

HANDY SUPPLIES

- ★ Cardstock, 65–110 lb / 176–300 gsm
- ★ A paper trimmer or scissors
- ★ Laminator and 3–5 mil pouches (optional)
- ★ Corner rounder (optional)
- ★ Hook-and-loop (velcro) dots (optional)
- ★ A big jar or a 3 × 5 in recipe box

Save ink: the cards print beautifully without backs, and the planners and index work fine in black and white.

SIX WAYS TO PLAY WITH THE CARDS

The jar pull

Your child pulls a card. Don’t like it? Put it back and pull once more.

Pick one of three

Lay out three cards and let your child choose. Choosing is half the fun.

Energy check

Ask “calm, medium or wiggly?” first, then pull from that energy.

Play Menu

Velcro four cards onto the menu each morning: calm, wiggly, together and free choice.

Big helper

An older child reads a 1–3 card aloud and plays it with a younger one, with a grown-up close by.

Season swap

Add the summer or rainy-day set when the weather turns.

Blank cards

Each age band ends with a few blank “your idea” cards, and the editable file has fillable blanks in every color. The best cards are often the ones your child invents. Write them down!

Questions, answered.

My child is between two age bands.

Use both. The bands overlap on purpose, and many cards work a year or two either side.

My child says no to every card.

Offer just two cards, or let them pull one without looking. A little boredom is fine too: it often turns into their own idea.

Do I have to play too?

For ages 1–3, yes: you are the best toy in the room. For older children, start together, then step back and be the audience.

Which pages should I print?

Only what you need. The page guide on the “Make them last” page lists every section.

Can I print it again?

Yes. Print as many copies as your own household needs, as often as you like.

Can I print at a print shop?

Yes, for your own family’s use. Choose cardstock and ask them to print at 100% (actual size).

Can I share it with my class, group or friends?

This file is licensed for one household. For groups or classrooms, ask about a license through the contact form at playbeforepixels.com.

Is there a screen version?

No, and that’s on purpose. The cards are paper so the play happens off-screen.

How do I type on the blank cards?

Open the editable file in a free PDF reader app that supports fill-in forms, click a box and type. Or use the PNG template set in a design app.

Where is my free bonus?

On the last page: scan the QR code or type the short link.

Download or file trouble? Answers to common download and printing questions are at playbeforepixels.com/help.

One more thing: a free bonus.
