

I'm bored!

Play Cards

76 screen-free play ideas for ages 1–5, each with what you need, how to play, a talk prompt and a safety note.

76 cards · 2 age bands

Ages 1–5, sorted by age

Calm · Medium · Wiggly

A talk prompt on every card

Prep: about 15 min to print and cut every card with a paper trimmer, then use them again and again. No time? Print one sheet, or point and pick from the card index with no cutting.

Boredom is where play begins.

“I’m bored!” isn’t a problem you have to fix. It’s a pause, and pauses are where children start inventing. These cards give that pause a gentle nudge: one simple idea, the few everyday things you need, and one thing to say while you play.

Talk is built in

Every card has a talk line. The back-and-forth (your question, their answer, your answer back) turns an activity into time together.

Sorted by age and energy

Pick your child’s age band, then ask: calm, medium or wiggly? Matching the mood makes a “yes” more likely.

Safety on every card

Every card has its own safety line and follows the rules on page 7. Every card for ages 1–3 uses only things too big to fit through a toilet-paper tube.

Made from everyday things

Pots, socks, boxes, paper, a walk outside. 70 of the 76 cards need nothing you have to buy.

WHAT’S INSIDE

- 76 play cards in 2 age bands: 1–3 and 3–5
- 14 blank “your idea” cards to write on
- 20 box dividers: ages, kinds of play, favorites, blanks
- 12 jar labels, including energy jars and blanks
- 2 card-back designs for double-sided printing
- 1 Today’s Play Menu choice board
- 3 Our Play Week planners: example, Monday and Sunday start

Low-ink edition: white background, line art to color, write-in blanks. The pack comes in color and low-ink files, each in US Letter and A4.

1

Print

Only the sheets you need, at 100% (actual size).

2

Cut & store

About 1 min a sheet with a trimmer. Jar, box or ring.

3

Offer two

Or let your child pull one from the jar.

4

Play & talk

Use the talk line, then follow their lead.

PREP BUDGET

About 15 minutes to print and cut all the cards with a paper trimmer, then they last for years (laminating is optional). No time today? Print one sheet, or read titles from the card index on page 21 and let your child pick: no cutting at all.

YOUR JOB AS THE GROWN-UP

You don’t have to entertain. Set out the things on the card, play for the first few minutes, then let your child lead. The grown-up guide on page 3 has the rest.

The grown-up guide

SET UP IN 2 MINUTES

1. Print one sheet for your child's age band (page guide on page 8).
2. Cut it, or skip cutting: point and pick from the card index.
3. Put the cards in a jar, a box or a pocket.
4. Next time you hear "I'm bored!", offer two cards.

WHAT YOUR CHILD IS PRACTICING

- Taking turns and waiting
- Trying an idea and changing it
- Big moves: running, balancing, throwing
- Listening and noticing
- Putting plans and feelings into words
- Finishing something they started

That's all it is: ordinary play. No scores, no levels, nothing to pass.

THREE TALK LINES THAT WORK AT EVERY AGE

1

Pause and wait

Count to five in your head before you jump in. The pause is their turn to talk, point or show you.

2

Say what you see

"You stacked it so tall!" Describe what they are doing instead of asking question after question.

3

Repeat and add one word

They say "truck." You say "big truck!" Their words, plus one more.

WHEN INTEREST FADES

Stop while it's still fun and put the card back for another day. Try the easier version in the card index, or let your child change the rules. Many children lose interest after a few minutes, and that's fine.

Most children love 2–3 of these; that's normal. Playing a favorite again and again is the point.

EVERY LANGUAGE COUNTS

Talk, sign, sing and read in the language you know best. Every language counts.

A sign, a point or a device tap counts as communicating too; answer it as you would words. You don't need to be chatty: reading the talk line word for word, or playing quietly side by side, counts too.

WHEN YOU HEAR "I'M BORED!"

Try: "I hear you. Want to pick one of two cards, or think for a minute first?" Boredom isn't an emergency. A few quiet minutes often turn into your child's own idea, and that counts as a win.

SIBLINGS OF DIFFERENT AGES

Pick a card from the younger child's band and give the older one a job: reader, rule-keeper or helper. Small parts from older cards stay out of reach of children under 3.

Tired grown-up?

Every card has a 2-minute version in the card index (page 21): no setup, played from the couch or the floor. Every play works from a chair, a bed or a wheelchair, and any sound play can be a see-it or feel-it play: flick the light for "stop."

Easier or harder

The card index also gives a "make it easier" and a "make it harder" line for every card, plus the age it usually starts from.

Helping cards are fun

Kitchen & Helping cards are for fun together, never a consequence for saying "I'm bored."

Pantry list & tired-grown-up plays

PANTRY LIST · 25 THINGS MOST HOMES ALREADY HAVE

TIRED-GROWN-UP PLAYS

Played from the couch or the floor, with no setup. Every card’s 2-minute version is in the card index; here are eight to start.

- 1-3 Peekaboo Towel
Towel over your face on the couch: “Where did I go?”
- 1-3 Knee Bounce Ride
One rhyme, one bounce, one cuddle.
- 3-5 Animal Charades
They act, you guess from the couch.
- 3-5 I Spy Colors
Play from the couch.
- 1-3 Tower and Crash
Stack three cushions by the couch; they knock them over.
- 1-3 Sink Helper
Hand them a dry cup and a towel to “wash” beside you.
- 1-3 Picture Walk
Look at one page together on the couch.
- 3-5 Cushion Fort
Blanket over two chairs; you sit outside as the guard.

No time to cut?

The card index pages are a no-cut menu: read a few titles aloud and let your child choose, or point to the picture of the kind of play.

Swap freely

No wooden spoon? Any big, sturdy kitchen tool works. Swap what the card asks for with what you have, and keep the card’s safety line.

Read a card in five seconds.

- 1 Age band and starting age
Color plus the words, and the age it usually starts from.
- 2 Energy level
One, two or three bars: calm, medium or wiggly.
- 3 Prep, mess, play time
Setup time, how messy it gets and roughly how long it lasts.
- 4 Kind of play
Eight kinds, each with its own picture and divider.
- 5 You need
Everyday things. Gather them first.
- 6 Try it
One or two short steps. Change anything you like.
- 7 Talk
One thing to say or ask while you play, in any language.
- 8 Who and what
"With a grown-up" or "Can do alone," plus "Nothing needed" or "Nothing to buy."
- 9 Safety line
Read it before you start, every time.

AGE BANDS, ALWAYS WITH A WORD LABEL

Ages 1-3

Ages 3-5

Bands overlap on purpose. Children move between them, so try the band above or below whenever a card fits your child.

THREE ENERGY LEVELS

 CALM

Sit-down play for winding down.

 MEDIUM

Up-and-about: pretend, building, helping.

 WIGGLY

Big-body play, indoors or out.

Wiggly cards count toward active play. The World Health Organization's 2019 guidelines recommend at least 180 minutes a day of varied physical activity for children aged 1-4, spread across the day.

What play looks like at each age.

Every child plays differently, and age bands are a starting point, not a rule. Here is what play often looks like in each band, and the easiest way for a grown-up to join in.

AGES 1-3

Do it again!

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Filling and dumping, stacking and knocking down, copying you, again and again.

YOUR PART

Be the partner on the floor. Keep turns short, and repeat whatever gets a smile.

TALK TIP

Short words and long pauses. Say what they're doing ("In! Out!"), then wait for any sound, sign or point back.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Tower and Crash

Sink Helper

Picture Walk

AGES 3-5

Let's pretend

PLAY LOOKS LIKE

Pretend worlds, chasing games, simple rules, and stories that change every minute.

YOUR PART

Take a part in the story (customer, patient, passenger) and let your child direct.

TALK TIP

Ask "what happens next?" and add one new word to what they say.

THREE TO TRY FIRST

Cushion Fort

Pretend Café

Feelings Freeze

BETWEEN TWO BANDS?

Children move between bands all the time. Play a 3-5 card with a two-year-old and be the helper, or bring back a 1-3 favorite for a four-year-old. The card index gives an easier and a harder way for every card.

BIG BROTHERS AND SISTERS

An older child can join any card as the reader, the rule-keeper or the helper. Keep small things from their games away from children under 3.

Every child plays and talks on their own timeline. If you have questions about your child's development, talk with your pediatrician.

Safety first, then fun.

Every play follows these safety rules, and every card has its own safety line at the bottom. They apply to every card, including the ones you write yourself.

A grown-up is always in charge

Every card assumes an adult nearby. For ages 1–3, stay within reach the whole time. Every card for under-5s says “With a grown-up.”

Water

Any amount of water means a grown-up within arm's reach, the whole time. Empty tubs and buckets straight after play.

Cords, strings and scarves

Nothing long enough to wrap around a neck: no long strings, cords, ties or long scarves. Sheets and blankets are draped, never tied.

Outdoors

Play well away from the street. No berries or mushrooms. Hats, water and shade in the sun. No puddle play in thunder or lightning.

Small parts and under-3s

For children under 3, use only things too big to fit through a toilet-paper tube (about 1.25 in / 3.2 cm across). Every 1–3 card is written this way. Older cards that use small things (coins, dice, tape, seeds, dough) say so: keep those away from younger brothers and sisters.

No balloons

Balloons are not safe for children under 8, so no card in this pack uses them.

Food and the kitchen

Sit down to eat. No whole grapes, nuts, popcorn, hard candy or marshmallows for young children; cut food thin and soft. Check allergies. Grown-ups handle sharp knives, the stove and the oven.

Hide-and-seek

Never hide in appliances, chests, trunks or cars.

Too big to fit: OK

Fits: too small

THE TOILET-PAPER TUBE TEST

If it fits through the tube, it's too small for under-3s.

Keep a cardboard tube in the play basket and test anything new before a toddler plays with it. A tube is about 1.25 in (3.2 cm) across.

The cards and pieces

Grown-up keeps the cut pieces and the jar. Every cut piece in this pack is 1.5 in or larger. Printed cards are paper, not toys for children who still mouth things: round laminated corners.

Hook-and-loop dots: check them before each play; remove any that lift. No loose dots for under-3s.

You know your child best

Skip or change any card that doesn't suit your child, your space or your day. These cards are ideas for play at home. They are not medical or developmental advice.

Make them last.

- 1 Print
Print at 100% or “actual size,” not “fit to page.” Cardstock (65–110 lb / 176–300 gsm) makes sturdy cards. Pick the US Letter or A4 file to match your paper.
- 2 Double-sided (optional)
Print the backs page for your age band once for each card sheet. Put the printed stack back in the tray (test one sheet first to see which way it goes) and print the fronts on the other side.
- 3 Cut
Straight lines only: 4 cuts each way per sheet with a paper trimmer or scissors. The white border inside each card hides small wobbles. Grown-up keeps the pieces.
- 4 Laminate
Pouches (3–5 mil) make cards last for years and wipe clean. Leave a thin sealed edge, then round the corners so there are no sharp points.
- 5 Hook-and-loop dots
For the Play Menu (ages 3+): a hook dot on each card back, loop dots on the board. Check dots before each play; remove any that lift. Store spare dots out of reach: they’re small parts.
- 6 Store
A big jar with one of the labels, a 3 × 5 in recipe box with the dividers, or a binder ring through a punched corner. Keep rings away from little ones.

SIX WAYS TO PLAY WITH THE CARDS

The jar pull

Your child pulls a card. Don't like it? Put it back and pull once more.

Pick one of two

Lay out two cards and let your child choose. Choosing is half the fun.

Energy check

Ask “calm, medium or wiggly?” first, then pull from that energy.

Play Menu

Put four cards on the menu in the morning: calm, wiggly, together and free choice.

Big helper

An older child reads a 1–3 card aloud and plays it with a younger one, with a grown-up close by.

Move up a band

When the 1–3 cards feel easy, mix in a few 3–5 cards. Keep the under-3 size rule for little siblings.

 BEST THING WE SAID WHILE WE PLAYED

PULL A CARD. PLAY TOGETHER.

PLAY BEFORE PIXELS

Questions, answered.

My child is between two age bands.

Use both. The bands overlap on purpose, and many cards work a year or two either side. The card index gives an easier and a harder version of every card.

Do I have to play too?

For ages 1–3, yes: you are the best toy in the room. For older children, start together, then step back and be the audience. Cards marked “Can do alone” still need a grown-up at home.

Color or low-ink?

You are holding the low-ink file: white backgrounds and line art to color. The color file has the same cards in full color, with type-in blanks.

Can I print it again, or at a print shop?

Yes. Print as many copies as your household needs, at home or at a print shop. Grandparents and sitters who care for your child count as your household.

Can I give it as a gift?

Yes. Print and cut the cards, put them in a jar with one of the labels, and give the jar. The family you give it to becomes the household this license covers.

Is it in other languages?

The cards are in English. Say the talk lines in the language you know best; a sign, a point or a device tap counts as an answer.

Lost your file?

Sign in on a web browser (not the shopping app) and open Purchases in your account: your files stay there.

My child says no to every card.

Offer just two cards, or let them pull one without looking. A little boredom is fine too: it often turns into their own idea.

Which pages should I print?

Only what you need. The page guide on page 8 lists every section.

How do I type on the blanks?

Use the color file: open it in a free PDF reader that supports fill-in forms (a computer is easiest), click a box and type. In this low-ink file, the blanks are for writing by hand.

Can a teacher, center or library use it?

Not yet. This file is licensed for one household. Classroom, child-care, library and group licenses are not available yet.

My child dislikes mess or loud noise.

Skip those cards, or use the easier version: a spoon instead of hands, a towel on the pot, watching first and joining later. Every child may pass.

Is there a screen version?

No, and that's on purpose. The cards are paper so the play happens off-screen.

Download or file trouble? Download on a computer or in your phone's web browser, not in the shopping app: apps often can't save files. Still stuck? Message us through the shop.

Happy playing!

Thank you for playing with us. If a card became a family favorite, we'd love to hear which one. You can leave a review in the shop where you bought this pack.

Reviews are always optional, and honest ones help other families most.
